Presented with a grant from the Mass. Cultural Council

Thank you for joining us today for our annual

Children's Concert

Thank you for joining us this afternoon. As the audience, you and your families are an important part of today's concert. While this concert is more informal than most, it is still important to respect the efforts of the performers and the other audience members by providing an atmosphere in which the performance can be appreciated by all. To that end, we ask your cooperation:

To avoid distracting the musicians and the audience, please ensure that children remain respectful while the band is playing. If your child becomes restless, please feel free to take them into the lobby until they are calm.

Thank you.

Olson has served as Interim Conductor of the Cambridge Symphony Orchestra, Guest Conductor of the Metropolitan Wind Symphony. He received degrees from Concordia College in Moorhead, MN and the University of Minnesota and is an active trumpet performer as a member of the Metropolitan Wind Symphony and the New Sousa Band.

About the Middlesex Concert Band

The Middlesex Concert Band is a nonprofit community band based in Wakefield, Massachusetts. The band regularly performs concerts across the North Shore and strives to bring affordable entertainment to those communities. Band members include amateur musicians and music educators from throughout Northeast Massachusetts and Southern New Hampshire.

Originally founded in the 1950s as a marching band, the group evolved into a concert band in the spring of 1975 with its first concert at Memorial Hall in Melrose. Since then, it has become one of the area's outstanding community musical organizations, performing in various indoor venues from September through June and presenting a number of free outdoor concerts during the summer months.

The Middlesex Concert Band is chartered to provide an enjoyable listening experience, while helping to educate members of the band and the audience with exposure to a broad variety of music.
