"Golden Nuggets"

(a Spring into Summer Concert)

June 18, 2023 – 3pm

Galvin M.S. Auditorium

Thank you!

Thank you for coming! We are excited to perform this afternoon's concert and hope that you enjoy the music!

We are especially thankful to an anonymous sponsor, who has made it possible for our performances to be presented free of charge to you, our patrons, this season and last. This has helped us continue serving our community with music during these recent unpredictable times. Presenting our concerts does cost the band money, including renting the venue and rehearsal space, paying our Maestro, purchasing the music we perform, and more. In addition, our musicians are amateurs, who volunteer their time to play in and run the Middlesex Concert Band. Our anonymous donor's generous donation allowed us to worry a bit less about whether the show would go on, and get to the actual performances we love.

There will come a time when we will need to resume selling tickets to our December, March, and June concerts. We hope that you will continue to support us by coming out to our concerts. We also graciously accept donations from the community.

The dates of next season's concerts will be announced over the summer. We will be performing as part of 4th of July celebrations at Mt. Hood (in the evening) and we present a free outdoor concert in Wakefield on the Common, this year on July 6th (in the evening).
